

Cold near record breaking

Highlands shiver as mercury plunges to -40 Celcius

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Haliburton County residents have been frozen to the bone in the past few days; they have complained of cars with engines so cold the oil seems to have become a solid; children who walk to school or stand at the bus stop have been wrapped with untold layers of cloth; everyone has experienced difficulty breathing the frigid air; almost all outside activities have halted because of the cold snap that hit the area this week.

If it's any consolation, it's not as cold as it was last year. In January of 1981 a cold snap hit the highlands, breaking many previous records and although this year's temperatures aren't quite as frigid, they are termed "near record breaking" by area climatologist Jim Elstone.

Tuesday morning the official minimum temperature was -40.0 C while the record was established last year at the temperature of -40.5 C. The same story held true Sunday as the temperature dipped to -38.5 C while the record low for January 10 is -38.9 C.

Monday, the maximum daily temperature registered at -22.5 C while the lowest maximum ever recorded for that day is -24.0 C. However, Elstone expected the maximum during the period from 7 a.m. Tuesday until 7 a.m. today might break the lowest maximum temperature record of -17.8 C. Weathermen were not expecting Tuesday's daily temperature to rise above -20.0 C. Clouds which were expected Tuesday night might warm the atmosphere enough to rise the temperature above the record, however.

Although no records have been broken during this cold snap, average temperatures are approximately 23 degrees C below normal lows. Normal low temperatures during mid-January is -17 C. Minus five Celsius is a normal daytime temperature but lately the mercury has been warmed to only reach between -25 and -13 C.

Along with near record breaking temperatures, the highlands experienced the worst blizzard

Haliburton Village was shrouded in fog early Tuesday morning as furnaces and wood stoves were called on to cope with temperatures that fell to more than -30 C. Some relief was expected Wednesday.

Fire destroys home near West Guilford

Dysart et al firemen were unable to save a West Guilford home Monday afternoon as flames completely engulfed the structure before the department received the call.

Norm Barry's home was completely destroyed in the blaze. Although there was a wood furnace in the structure, fire chief Howard Roberts said it did not appear to have caused the blaze. There is no known cause for the fire as yet but Roberts said arson is not expected. No one was home at the time of the blaze.

The building, once a service garage, had been partially converted into a house. A section of the building was still used as a personal repair shop and was equipped with many tools, Roberts said.

Roberts said the caller who notified the department indicated that firemen probably

Chimney fire caught in time

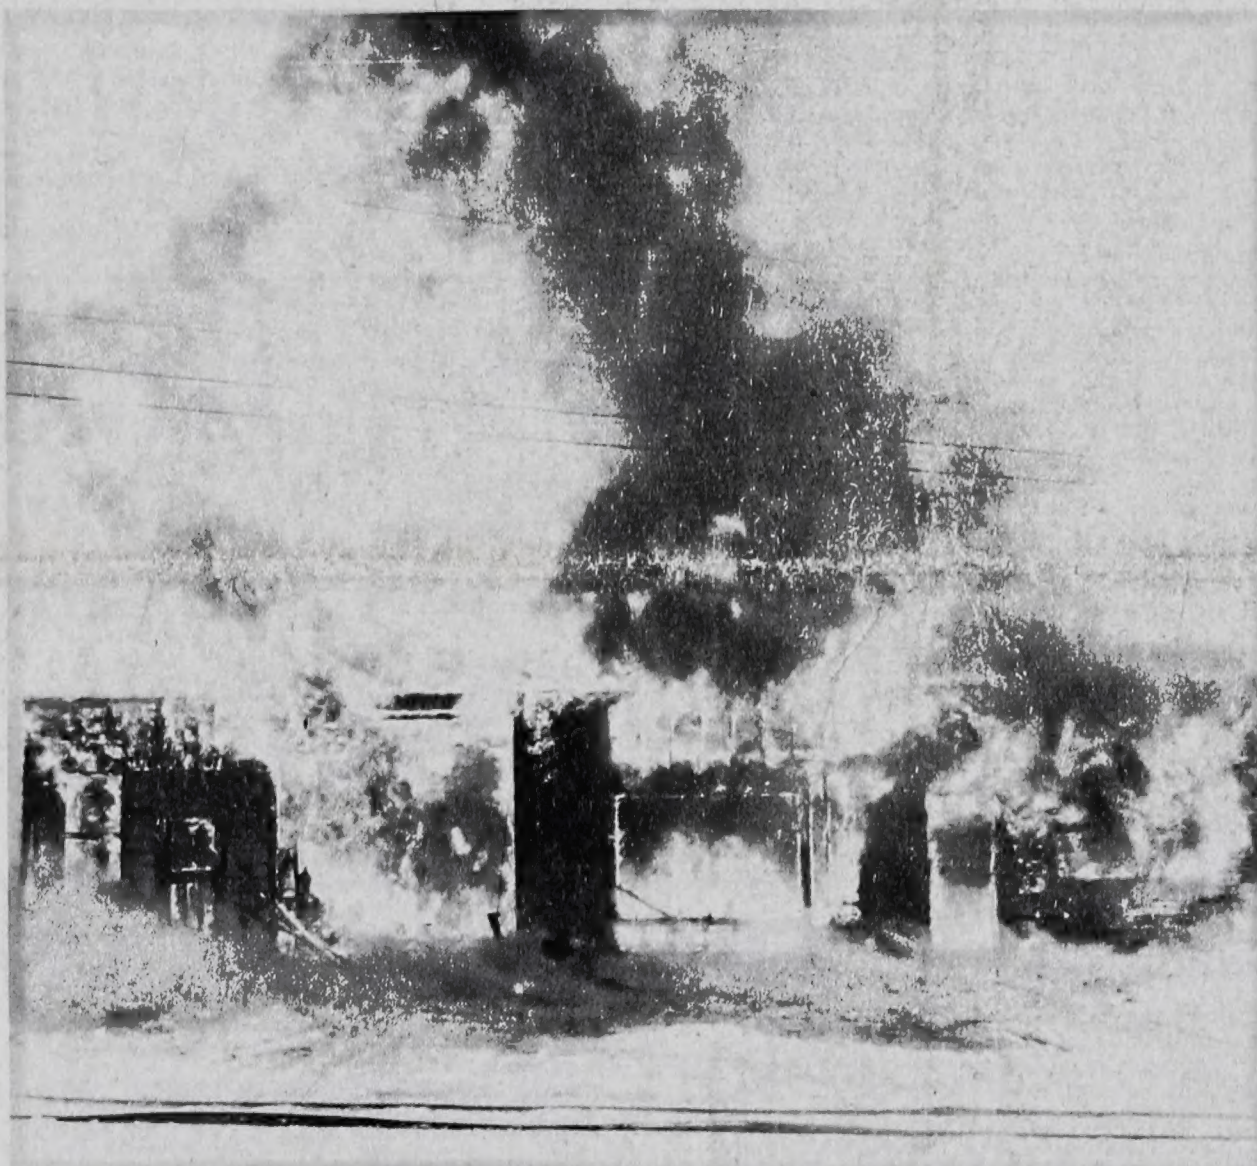

Sixteen Dysart et al firemen faced 35 below Fahrenheit weather to respond to a chimney fire at 3 a.m. Tuesday.

The men rushed out in near record breaking temperatures to the home of Jack Morrison in Haliburton village.

The fire was located near a brick chimney and wood close by was beginning to burn. A wood stove was connected to the chimney.

The Morrison family was saved from near disaster as they were awakened by the smell of smoke.

Damage is estimated at $150.

Black smoke and flames consumed Norm Barry's house and garage in West Guilford Monday afternoon. Firemen stood helplessly by as the structure was ruined before they could arrive on the scene. No one was at home.

Sculptor to donate to Minden

A sought-after artist, George Pratt remembers his roots

A well-known Canadian sculptor has offered to donate an original stone sculpture to the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery in Minden village.

George Pratt, born and raised at South Lake near Minden, said from his Vancouver home Monday, that he wrote to Dr. Jamieson asking if the cultural centre committee would accept a sculpture for display in the gallery.

Describing himself as having "the good fortune to become a fairly sought-after artist", Pratt said he is considering a stone sculpture depicting either birds or animals. Although he doesn't plan to begin work on the project until at least mid-March, Pratt said he has considered sculpting two bears fighting. Because the artwork will be a permanent fixture in the gallery, Pratt said it's size will have to be limited to about 200 pounds so two men could move it easily. The stone sculpture would probably be about "the size of a bread box."

Pratt said he conceived the idea of a sculpture for the gallery after reading in The Echo that Minden was building a cultural centre.

"Golly, it's a matter of remembering where my roots are," he explained.

Although he has "sold a lot" of sculptures across the country, Pratt's most impressive work may be his current project. He has been commissioned to create a stone sculpture of marathon of hope runner Terry Fox, who died of cancer at the age of 23 last year.

Forests worry council

Dysart considers a tree cutting by-law to promote better forest management

Concerned about the effects of poor cutting practices on local forests, Dysart et al council will consider passing a tree cutting by-law.

The by-law would set diameter limits for harvesting on private land holdings. While two and a half acres is considered a minimum size in such by-laws, which must be approved by the Ministry of Natural Resources, council would apply it only on substantially larger holdings.

Council's concern about the state of local forests, and about cutting practices in particular, was brought to a head by a recent incident at Haliburton Lake in which a local logger clear cut on land he owned near the lake. In the process, he also felled trees on municipal property and on other private landings. Lawsuits may be pending, council was told Monday.

"A lot of areas are literally being slashed" reeve Murray Fearrey told MNR forester Peter Hynard, who attended the meeting at council's request. "We don't want to tell people that they can't cut trees on their own land" the reeve said, but he added that council felt their should be some means of regulating commercial logging operations in the municipality.

Hynard suggested that council could use one of three means to tackle the problem. It can control forest exploitation through zoning, through a tree cutting by-law, or through efforts to inform the public about proper forest management practices.

"I wouldn't like to see you legislate out forest harvesting on large areas of land", Hynard said. He noted that the Ministry believes forests should be harvested, but in the proper way.

In the case of crown land, the Ministry can control forest use by setting allowable cut quotas and ensuring that only the most suitable trees are harvested, resulting in a sustained yield. On private land, however, the ministry has no direct control, although it will advise land owners about management practices, and does carry out some management through agreements signed with private owners.

At the moment, the local MNR office manages about 3000 acres of private and crown forests in the area, and according to Hynard, is "working at (it's) peak."

"We can't take on a further workload" because of staffing and budget constraints he said.

But Hynard said the ministry could supply council with a sample tree cutting by-law.

Reeve Murray Fearrey stressed that council was "nervous about telling a guy with an acre of land that he can't fell a tree", but Hynard allayed those concerns. The by-law, he said, would not apply to tracts smaller than two and half acres, and would not apply to trees cut for personal use. As well, a clause is usually inserted to allow a professional forester to approve the harvesting of trees above or below the diameter limit.

Some 41 per cent of the private landholdings in Dysart et al are 1000 acres or larger, according to Hynard, and it is on those tracts that the majority of the logging activity takes place. By increasing the acre size restriction of the model by-law council could direct it's concerns at commercial loggers rather than at individuals cutting on smaller, private tracts, the reeve noted.

"In that way we could at least protect the forest on private land", he said.

"We don't want to put anyone out of business," Fearrey commented, "but we don't want to see the bush ruined for future generations."

On the matter of clear cutting, Hynard noted that if the operation is controlled, "one must accept that it's good forest practice". In such cases, areas are selectively harvested and replanted, providing a sustained yield year by year, generally over a vast area of land.

However, he said, "it is never good forestry practice to start at one end of your property and cut to the other end."

In the end, council asked Hynard to supply a sample by-law, and agreed to consider how it could be applied in the municipality.

Disaster by-law passed

Procedures for coping now spelled out

Officials in Dysart et al will be a little more ready to cope with disaster now that they have passed a by-law setting down emergency procedures.

The by-law, passed Monday, establishes a chain of command for coping with any kind of disaster which may strike the municipality. It also lists services available throughout the area, equipment both public and private, location of buildings that could be used to shelter displaced people, medical facilities and personnel, and numerous other items that could prove important in times of calamity.

The by-law is similar to one in effect under the now defunct Emergency Measures Organization. It meshes with other disaster plans in the county, including one for the local Red Cross hospital.

While the by-law would be important in the event of war, floods, or a major plane crash, it could also assist council in coping with large scale traffic accidents, blizzards, and other natural or man made occurrences that might effect area citizens.

Dysart supports changes

Dysart council will support a move to drop the word 'provisional' from the county's title and redistribute the number of votes among county councillors.

While no one opposed the proposal, councillor Roy Brohm expressed concern that the move to full county status could reduce provincial grants to the municipality, particularly for roads.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said the province had assured county council that grants would not change if 'provisional' is dropped from the county's title. The province already views the area as a county on equal footing with others, he said.

But in order to recognize Brohm's concerns, the resolution supporting the change included the qualification that the change must not effect provincial grants to the area.

Council also agreed that votes should be redistributed at the county level to reflect population and assessment within the municipalities.

The status change and vote restructuring are expected to be considered at a meeting of county council next Wednesday.

Three stand trial for area murder

Three Toronto men will stand trial for the murder of a Mississauga man whose body was found near Kinmount last year.

The victim, 22 year old Kirk Malcolm, had been beaten to death and tied to a tree.

Austin Lochhead, 18, David Kernaghan, 21 and Roger Foster, 17, will stand trial before an Ontario Supreme Court judge and jury in March.

The three remain in custody in Lindsay jail.

A fire of unknowns origin completely destroyed the cottage of Bernard Gerstein of Toronto last Wednesday. The cottage, located on Basshaunt Lake, was one of the largest in the county. Police and fire officials say foul play is not suspected, and no investigation was planned.

Briefly ...

Snowmobile accidents high

Snowmobile accidents have accounted for almost half of the accidents reported to the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police since the beginning of the year. Nine of the 21 reportable accidents on and off area roadways have involved snowmobiles.

Minden youths charged

Two Minden youths have been charged with theft over $200 and taking vehicles without the owners' consent after six snowmobiles were stolen from the area in the past three weeks.

Charged are Randy Earl McNabb (Yeo) and Brett W. Porter. Porter also faces a breach of probation charge.

Five OPP officers were involved in the investigation (because of the time period) and discovered all the snowmachines within a few miles of where they were stolen.

A surprising twist

A year and half after a car was stolen from a parking lot in Haliburton village, the truth behind its disappearance and subsequent recovery in downtown Toronto has been uncovered. Minden OPP relate the following story:

In the afternoon of August 23, 1980, a Glamorgan Township resident, John Edward Reil, parked his 1972 Plymouth in the parking lot of a Haliburton supermarket. A short time later, in front of several witnesses, a youth was seen to throw his suitcase into the car, climb aboard and drive off.

Six days later, on a street in downtown Toronto, the vehicle was found abandoned. Inside was the suitcase containing identification. A warrant was issued for the owner of the suitcase, Derek Paul Gallogley, 19 of no fixed address.

It wasn't until November 6 that Gallogley was located, taken to Lindsay jail and then to Lindsay court. He was subsequently released upon his promise to appear in Minden Provincial Court on December 2. When he failed to keep this court appointment, a second warrant was issued for his arrest.

A year later, in December 1981, Coboconk OPP detachment officers arrested Gallogley on the outstanding warrant and again he was lodged in the Lindsay jail and subsequently taken to Lindsay court. This time, admitting to the car theft, he entered a guilty plea. Gallogley was sentenced to 30 days in jail, a one year term of probation and was ordered to pay restitution of $578.45 to cover the amount paid by the insurance company for repairs to the car and to compensate Reil for the time he was deprived of the use of his car.

Asked why he left his identification in the stolen vehicle, Gallogley explained that on the day he stole the car, he stopped at a bar for a quick drink. While he was inside (having left the car's motor running), a second thief happened by and relieved him of his stolen transportation.

The destruction was total last Wednesday night when fire swept through the Basshaunt Lake cottage of Bernard Gerstein of Toronto. A few wisps of smoke could be seen curling from the rubble at noon the next day.

Sculptor to donate statue to Minden sculpture has its origins in Haliburton County where he was living in 1970 when he met prominent Canadian sculptor E.B. Cox. (Cox's sculptures are prominent on the Canadian National Exhibition grounds in Toronto, especially at the Horticultural building).

Pratt said he "badgered" Cox until he consented to teach Pratt about stone sculpture. Pratt, who had always enjoyed carving wood and at the time had a wood-working business in Halibur-ton village with his brother, started to work with stone.

By the summer of 1972, Pratt had 13 "humble little pieces" which he exhibited at the annual Guild of Fine Arts summer sale in Haliburton village. At the end of the sale, Pratt said he was surprised to have sold eight of the small sculptures. "Encouraged", he produced another 30 pieces, all "smaller than a loaf of bread", and sponsored his first show in Toronto that December. The show sold out and Pratt says his sculpture career "went on from there."

Moving to B.C. in 1975, Pratt said he sold many pieces across the country. He adds that once people buy one piece they usually return within 18 months to view more of his work.

Pratt said he is searching for a "remarkable" stone to sculpt for the Minden cultural centre. Because his family still resides in the area, he is hoping to transport the finished sculpture to Minden personally.

"I want it to be one of my better works of birds and animals. It means a lot to me."

Many seniors must reapply for GIS

Some 400,000 retired people in Ontario are about to receive special forms in the mail to re-apply for Health and Welfare Canada's Guaranteed Income Supplement payments.

The applications will be coming from the departments, Income Security Programs Branch.

W.A. Wright, Assistant Director General of the program, has advised that the application forms should be received within the next several days. "Recipients should complete the forms and return them to us at the earliest possible moment," Wright said.

"Failure to file application for G.I.S. will result in supplement payments being discontinued", Wright stressed.

The G.I.S. program requires annual re-application by recipients because of the possible change in income. Recipients whose income has dropped will receive larger payments while recipients whose income has increased will receive a reduced rate, Mr. Wright pointed out.

Consequently, some people will receive larger amounts beginning this April -- others will receive less.

"We urge all persons who receive the applications to re-apply as quickly as possible so that they will continue to receive the supplement payments to which they are entitled without interruption," Wright said.

G.I.S. is an assistance program supplementary to Old Age Security at the moment pensioners who qualify can receive as much as $227.73 over and above the OAS payment.

would be unable to save the structure as flames were already consuming it.

Roberts said the owners believe the loss could be as high as $60,000.

The Barrys are presently staying with neighbour Garth Henderson.

New standards ban mixing of tire types

New standards for tires used on vehicles operated on Ontario roads come into effect February 1, 1982, Ontario Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow said recently.

"Essentially, we've adopted the standards currently in use under our motor vehicle inspection program," Snow said.

"Now those standards apply to all motorists, as well as those seeking to obtain a Safety Standards Certificate."

Under the new regulations, a mixture of radial-ply tires on the front and bias-ply or belted bias-ply tires on the rear will be illegal. Mixing of 50 or 60 series tires on the front with any other series mixture on the rear will also be prohibited.

A combination of construction types or sizes on an axle are also banned, unless they are equivalent by tire industry standards. This does not apply, however, to a temporary use spare tire in an emergency providing only one is used.

Tires cannot be smaller than the vehicle manufacturer's specified minimum size, nor can they surpass maximum specified size so that they contact any part of the vehicle in such a way as to affect the safe operation of the vehicle.

Tires with any wording or lettering indicating the tire was not designed for highway use will also be prohibited, including those bearing the words "Not For Highway Use," or "Farm Use Only," or "Competition Circuit Use Only," and the letters "SL," or "NHS," or "TG."

The regulations will also set minimum tread wear depths. Tire must be replaced for example, when there is less than 1.5 mm of tread depth remaining, or when tread wear indicators contact the road.

Vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating of more than 4,500 kg must replace front tires with less than 3 mm of tread depth remaining.

Tires with abnormal visible bumps, bulges, knots, exposed cord, or tread or sidewall cuts deep enough to expose the cords will also have to be replaced. And no tire can be regrooved or recut unless specifically designed for that purpose.

Snow said the police will have the authority to order a vehicle with faulty tires off the road under the regulations.

"But we're also giving them room to exercise their discretionary powers," he said.

"The new regulations enable the police to issue a special form, requesting the driver to replace an unfit tire and report back to the officer within 96 hours."

Oil company's lease increased

Imperial Oil Ltd. will pay almost 2000 per cent more this year to lease a portion of municipal road allowance in Dysart et al than it paid last year.

But council had no trouble negotiating the increase. Since 1928, the company has paid $45 a year to lease a small piece of property in Haliburton village from the municipality.

Even with the increase, Imperial Oil will pay only $872 a year for the lease.

Clerk Wayne Wood told council the new rate reflects Canadian National Railways rates for property leased in the same area.

Dysart establishes committees for 1982

Committees for 1982 were established by Dysart et al council Monday at the first meeting of the new year.

There were few changes on the committees, with most people who had served in previous years re-appointed.

The Dysart et al library board for the current year will consist of Victoria Ross, Phyllis Woodcock, Heather Scully, Mary Walling, Mary Wallace, and Roy Brohm from council.

Appointed to the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum committee for 1982 were Jane Heyes, Frank Wallace, Margaret Sisson, Harley Cummins, Allan Bagg, Gerry Dawson, and Sid Cooper and Gary McKnight from council.

The planning board will consist of Lloyd Coneybeare, Don Popple, Earl Sisson, Jack Denholm, Roy Brohm and Gary McKnight from council.

The Dysart Recreation and Community Centres board for the current year will be comprised of Scott Larue, Brian Black, Roy Scott, Dorothy Baker, Pat Kennedy, and Sid Cooper and Gary McKnight from council.

In Harcourt, the recreation committee will consist of Bill Smith, Frank Packard, Ken Langille, Perry Traviss, Marlene Main, and Harold Bannon and Gary McKnight from council.

Howard Roberts is once again the chief fire warden. Fire wardens in various areas of the municipality are Pat Waddell, Neil Howe, Wilf Everett, Victor Hutchings, Grenville Martin, Chester Schwandt, John Burnett, Maurice Emmerson and John Bruce.

Harold Bannon will once again act as wolf bounty officer for the municipality, and Howard Roberts will serve as weed inspector.

conditions in over 20 years Sunday afternoon. Blizzard conditions are created when winds rise above 30 or 40 mph and the temperatures remain below 0 F. While only nine cm of snow fell, the blizzard conditions were created by the violent winds. Winds of that velocity are very uncommon in the highlands.

Snow levels in the northwestern area of the county now reach a depth of 61 cm while last year the depth was 87 cm. In the southwestern area of the county the snow is only 35 cm deep.

Despite the cold weather, slushy conditions still exist on many area lakes but they are expected to improve within the next week to 10 days. Snowmobile trails are still not being groomed because of the slush on lakes.

Skiing conditions are listed as good although they are not as good as reported last year at this time.

Weathermen are calling for a warming trend in the latter part of this week.

Dysart opts out of tax revolt

Councillors in Dysart et al have voted not to join a tax revolt advocated by councillor from St. Vincent Township.

In a letter to all municipal councils in the province, B. Eric Biggens urged citizens to refuse to pay provincial sales tax to protest against government spending.

But council flatly rejected the idea.

"He's asking us to break the law" said reeve Murray

Fearrey.

Councillor Roy Brohm also failed to see any merit in the scheme, for practical reasons.

"If you're going to spend $5% million for 2000 pupils (in Haliburton County), you have to get the money from somewhere", he said.

Biggens' letter, and the resolution which accompanied it, was filed.

Quilters from around the county were honoured for their achievements at the opening of the quilting show in the new Guild Room, Saturday. The show will be displayed at the Raily's End Gallery in Haliburton village until January 30. Seen in front of the prize winning group quilt care Eleanor Young, Elaine Jackson, Catherine Wilkinson, Alma Barjarow and Barb Pierce.

Sawmill owner to get relief

Ontario sawmill operators who have been particularly hard-hit by problems stemming from current high interest rates will be able to take advantage of a program to offer them some financial relief, Ontario Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope announced recently.

The assistance will take the form of deferred payment by the companies on Crown dues and charges for timber. The Ministry will hold back on billing the companies for a period of up to six months. Interest charges on the amount due will also be deferred until the presentation of the final bill.

The ministry anticipates that the policy will only be applied in the most extreme situations existing on a local basis in the province. Applicants for assistance will have to show adequate justification for receiving aid.

"I was approached by sawmill operators of the Hearst area and also by the Ontario Lumber Manufacturers Association," said Pope.

"The presented a clear picture of the severe problems occurring in some areas. As a result of their recommendations, which included a request that this government impress on the federal government the hardship that the high interest rate policy is imposing on the sawmill industry, we have introduced this interim measure to provide immediate relief."

The Minister added that any indebtedness to the Crown resulting from the deferral of Crown charges on the production of timber during this period will be secured through logs or lumber supplies of the companies.

The ministry is also examining, in conjunction with the federal government programs, how existing programs within the Ministry of Natural Resources can be applied to assist the employees of these same companies.

Inventory of dams planned

Province to search out electrical generating stations

An inventory of small dams in the province will be undertaken by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources to assess their potential as hydro-electric energy generation sites, Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope and Energy Minister Robert Welch have announced.

The inventories and assessments, to be carried out over a two-year period, are being funded by the Ontario Ministry of Energy. Allocation for the current fiscal year is $135,000.

Work on the inventory will be carried out in part by engineers in my ministry, but mainly by MNR-retained consulting engineers.

The Minister said initial investigations of more than 200 sites will probably be done using data already in provincial government files, but thorough field studies will be required in the case of the most promising sites.

The Ministry of Natural Resources owns and maintains more than 200 dams across the province, while an additional 200 are owned by Conservation Authorities.

"Many more dams, in both northern and southern Ontario, have been built for specific purposes - by lumber companies to aid in log driving, and to provide power for grist mills, sawmills and factories; by mining companies; and in earlier times by local power companies to supply energy to individual communities," Pope added.

Welch said site assessments will investigate not only the potential for energy generation but also possible markets for such output.

"This is part of the Ontario government's overall program to encourage small hydro installations in the province," he said.

"To ensure all sites are evaluated on a common basis, my ministry has prepared a Manual for Inventory of Potentials," Pope added.

Hydro will reduce voltage

Ontario Hydro will conduct a routine voltage reduction test on Tuesday, January 19.

Voltage on the Ontario electrical grid will be reduced by five per cent for two one-hour periods: from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. and again from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. For most customers the effects of the reduction will be imperceptible.

The purpose of the test is to ensure that in an emergency involving, for example, the breakdown of a large generating unit, Hydro could prevent power interruptions. A five per cent voltage reduction over the Hydro system is equivalent to more than 500,000 kilowatts -- the output of a Pickering reactor -- and is enough to meet the needs of more than 180,000 homes.

The tests are carried out twice a year in January and July.

Glamorgan council holds meeting

At its most recent meeting, Glamorgan Township council considered the following matters:

Road voucher of $9,134.03; welfare payroll of $2,798.03; O.H.R.P. voucher of $4,250.00; and general voucher of $26,037.85, were approved for payment.

Laurie R. McLean, township solicitor was advised that the township will not accept any further restrictions regarding the purchase from Madill.

Campfens, Greer, Gallo-way, Architects were instructed to include in their drawings SK1 and SK2 a 4' overhang running 8' over the south door.

Campfens, Greer, Gallo-way were also asked to confirm in writing their verbal agreement to include the overhang drawings and interior door drawing in the plans at no extra charge.

The Clerk Treasurer was authorized to arrange an extension on the capital loan until the outstanding grants are received.

A letter will be drafted and sent out to all township suppliers concerning a donation for private funding for the community centre.

The sum of $5,000 was transferred to Reserve for Working Funds in accordance with 1981 budget estimates.

A motion to cancel December 15 meeting and to authorize treasurer to pay routine accounts, was passed.

Council supported the resolution passed by the Township of Greenock supporting the use of nuclear energy for power development by Ontario Hydro.

The Finance and Correspondence was read by the Committee.

Putting an end to bad management

A hundred years ago, Haliburton County could boast some of the best forest land in Canada. Thousands of acres of huge white pines stretched to the horizons, towering over lesser species and dominating the botanical hierarchy. Then came the loggers. With broad axe and cross cut saw they systematically and relentlessly denuded the hillsides. There was no thought of controlling the harvest. The trees were there for the taking, and many a fortune was made by the sweat of labourers' brows. When an area was cleared of pines the loggers moved on, leaving slash that choked off new growth for decades. Settlers followed the loggers, cutting and burning to clear the land and force the roads that enabled the county to be settled.

When all the pines had been cut and driven southward, to become ship's timber and material for houses, local mills sprang up to exploit what was left. Thousands of trees were cut every year, and none were replanted. The land was huge and the forest seemed inexhaustible. But it was not. Slowly, inexorably, the best timber was harvested, and weaker trees took their place. Then came the chemical plant in Donald, with its insatiable appetite for cordwood that fueled the furnaces and supplied the raw material for chemical products. Eventually it too went out of business, but not before countless thousands of trees had been fed into its fiery maw.

Today, Haliburton County is still a land of forests, and there are still good quality trees to be found, but there were fewer and fewer of them. High interest rates and a sagging demand for lumber have hurt the local logging industry, but the mills have also been hurt by the lack of forest management. For the fact is that while we know a great deal more about the importance of conservation than did the white pine loggers or the generations which followed, we don't always put our knowledge to good use. Despite the importance of the forest as an economic resource tied to both lumber and tourism, the county's forests are still being relentlessly, and not always wisely, exploited.

Anyone who has walked through an area bush that has been logged can attest to the havoc a skidder can cause. Sapplings which would ensure regeneration are smashed down, exposing the soil to erosion, and allowing poorer quality trees to take over. Good trees are taken as well as bad, big as well as small, and sometimes trees that could be used for timber or veneer in 20 years are cut up and fed into stoves instead of left in place.

Economic gain is important, of course, and it is responsible for the best and the worst of what is happening to our forests. But short term economic gain should not be allowed to overshadow sound management practices, practices which would guarantee the continued availability of good quality timber.

It was with that fact in mind that Dysart et al council decided Monday to consider a tree cutting by-law. The by-law would control commercial logging operations by setting size restrictions for harvesting on large tracts of private land. Tree cutting for individual use would not be effected.

If council does move to adopt such a by-law, it will do so only after long and hard reflection. And it will do so reluctantly. Inevitably, there will be those who will speak out about government interference, about freedom, and about the right of individuals to do what they like with their property. Balanced against those arguments however, will be the cold hard fact that Haliburton's forests have been ruined by careless exploitation, and that if they are to be protected for the future, they must be soundly managed.

Dysart is poised to take an important step in its evolution. And the time has never been better to take it.

Install mail slots, businesses urged

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

With the increase in postage to the current exorbitant rates, I wonder if the good merchants and institutions of Haliburton County will take action on a situation I have noticed and have found to be a problem at times.

That is, could they please install mail boxes or letter slots on their premises?

Like many others, we visit our cottage every week-end from May to October each year, and are there for a month in the summer. On many instances we have occasion to drop off cheques, letters, or other material at places of business, the Chamber of Commerce, newspapers, the Municipal Office, "etc." outside of normal business hours. After all, we are going by the door anyway, so why not? In addition, it only takes us three hours to drive up and deliver personally as compared to two to three days for a letter to be delivered and 10 days for a newspaper.

Current delivery techniques call for one to get on one's hands and knees and attempt to stuff an envelope under the door. This could be very embarrassing if an O.P.P. officer came by say at 10 p.m. on a Friday night and started asking questions.

We have noted in the Echo that the Municipality of Stanhope has broken the ice and passed a resolution to install a mail box.

Who knows, it may be catching. Think of the potential and opportunities for residents to personally leave orders and pay their accounts on a 24 hour basis. It would do wonders for the local economy, not to mention hitting the Feds where it counts, right in the pocket book!

So let's join the trend to do-it-yourself mailing, install letter boxes.

Yours very truly,
J.G. Strickland
Scarborough, Ont.

Another measured step of time has passed and again we pause and consider the import of its passing. But if rather than a single unit of time, we would consider the wider limits of say, a thousand years, and consider how mankind has fared during that broader horizon, I suggest that our species has little to cheer about. Technologically, we are unbelievably advanced. We have peered into the depths of our own solar system and in the meantime thousands of our kind have died from malnutrition and thousands more have suffered excruciating torture at the hands of dictatorial regimes. Our doctors and scientists have given us a chance at a longer and happier life while producing the means of committing race suicide. We are never free from the terrors of wars and invasions and yet we can dissect the very atoms that are part of our being.

We have poisoned our atmosphere, polluted our waters and destroyed thousands of our fellow travellers on this planet. We have improved on the most sophisticated tortures of the Inquisition with our Dachau's and Agent Orange.

We have acquired huge stores of sophisticated data with the appropriate equipment to recall them without gaining a whit of wisdom.

And into every country with a quarrel to promote, we pour our most powerful weapons of

We pay a high price to survive winter

Editor's Notebook

by LEN PIZZEZY

The crackling cold that swept down over the Highlands and most other parts of North America in the last few days has left us breathless and cursing. It has seized up our cars and nipped at our faces. It has driven us to distraction as we struggle to keep fingers warm and furnaces fed.

But it has given us a certain sense of satisfaction too, the kind that comes from knowing that we can still smile through the worst that the weather has to offer.

Canada's harsh climate has played a big role in shaping us as a people, but sometimes it takes an outsider to help us understand that fact.

Two years ago, exchange student Alex Lopez, a native of Argentina, said in an interview that he thought Canada's winter had a lot to do with its prosperity. And anyone who has seen the crushing indolence that pervades many warmer climates would be inclined to agree.

It was Lopez's theory that Canadians worked hard and were relatively prosperous simply because they had to have money for clothes and shelter to survive the snow and wind.

I think he had a point. If winter never came, we wouldn't have to worry about affording insulated houses. We wouldn't have to have warm boots and heavy coats and block heaters and snow shovels. If there was no winter in Canada, we could just relax in the sun all year round, warm and comfortable, tanned and fit. We'd be poor but happy.

Think of that tomorrow morning when the snow creaks under your boots and your car thumps down the road, it's tires frozen out of round by the night's cold.

Think of it, and wonder? Is our prosperity worth the price that winter forces us to pay?

For the past couple of weeks, no matter where I seem to go everyone seems to be talking doom and gloom. I'm no different than anyone else as I have also been guilty of preaching about the rough road that lies ahead. Most of the discussions seem to be in the area of the economy, high interest rates and unemployment. Let's face it, we are in a period of a slight recession but things are just not going to get better until we all get off this gloom and doom kick and start talking about some of the bright stars in our future. For one thing, I often wonder how many people living today in Canada in January of 1982 are worse off than they were say a year ago. There are some due to certain circumstances beyond their control but for many others they should be thankful that they are as well off as they are. I am of the opinion that if all of us would change our tune then the music would sound that much sweeter. Most people seem to have money but they hear so much about how bad that times are that they are afraid to spend it and this is the poor position that we find ourselves in today.

Robert English, Municipal Law Enforcement Officer for the Municipality of Dysart et al, was telling me the other day that dogs running at large in Harcourt and Haliburton village are posing a real problem. Dog owners should be reminded that any dogs found running at large is an offence under Municipal regulations. If your dog is found running loose you can expect to pay a large fine and I understand that no warnings will be given in this matter. You know the rules: keep your dogs tied up or be ready to pay the consequences.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who submitted photos for our weekly Pic of the Past section during 1981. I would like to inform all of our readers that we have some really interesting pictures coming your way this coming year. We hope that you will enjoy them.

I have decided not to make any predictions for 1982. My record in this department has been very poor in the past so I have decided that if I can't bat over 500 I should forget it. No one knows what the future holds but there are a lot of good things that I hope will happen in this new year. I hope that these good things will not only happen in your community but will happen to you.

A new color motion picture honoring the life of Corrie ten Boom will be presented at the Senior Elementary School at Haliburton. Entitled Corrie: The Lives She Touched, the film, produced by World Wide Pictures, will be shown this coming Saturday, January 16 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Filmed in Denver before a live audience of more than 2,000 persons gathered to pay tribute to Corrie's ministry of love and compassion. Corrie: The Lives She Touched shares in greater detail the events that have taken place in her life. During World War II, Corrie and her family, residents of Haarlem, Holland, became involved in the Dutch Underground following the invasion of their homeland by Hitler's Nazi forces. They are credited with saving the lives of scores of Jews, by hiding them in a secret room in their home, and by arranging safe passage out of the country. For their effort, they were arrested in a surprise raid, and sent to prison. Corrie was sent to Ravensbruck Concentration Camp, and is the lone survivor of the immediate family. Corrie's story has been shared with millions around the world through the book and motion picture, The Hiding Place. Music is featured throughout the one-hour program by Evie Tornquist, George Beverly Shea, the Bill Gaither Trio, and by Ted Smith, pianist and composer of the film score for the Hiding Place. According to the Reverend John E. Smith, pastor of Lakeside Baptist Church, the showing is free and open to the public. A free will offering will be received for the work of Billy Graham's film ministry.

Dick Saxby of Calgary, Alberta visited with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ted Saxby at their home at Tory Hill on Wednesday, January 4. Amelia Sibley who had been visiting in Calgary returned home to Haliburton with him. Ted Saxby left on January 4 to carry on his work in Turkey.

It's Winter Carnival time once again and the first one on the schedule will be the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival which is set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January, 29, 30 and 31. We will have more details on the carnival in next week's paper.

Bracebridge will be the visitors at the Haliburton arena this coming Sunday afternoon, January 17 when they take on the Haliburton Huskies in a regular scheduled Georgian Bay Junior C. O.H.A. contest. The game gets underway at 2:30 p.m.

A special meeting will be held when the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen meet at St. George's Anglican Church this Sunday, January 17 at 8 a.m. All members are asked to attend.

We have just received word that the latest test shows that the water at Dover's Spring at Haliburton is perfect for drinking. The sample of water was taken from this source by Dale McCrea on December 10, 1981. Many visitors as well as local people use this water and we are sure pleased to see that it is testing so good.

Henry Hinn, Evangelist will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship in Canada hold their monthly Fellowship Dinner at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton on Friday, January 15, 1982 at 7:00 p.m. Henry Hinn was born and raised in Tel-Aviv, Israel and was raised in a Roman Catholic School with Greek Orthodox background. Henry's family immigrated to Canada in 1968 and God called Henry to minister. Don't miss hearing this outstanding speaker.

From all reports, 1982 is not going to be a good year, economically. In fact, it's going to be a disastrous year, for many Canadians.

But one heck of a lot of ordinary Canadians are either going to be plain out of a job, or biting the bullet to make ends meet.

It's a little frightening for us who remember the Depression of the Thirties to see factory after factory laying off employees, farmers unable to meet the mortgage payments, hamburger or worse becoming once again the entree for dinner.

Finance Minister MacEchin's budget didn't help much. It was like throwing a cold, wet blanket over a dying man to keep him warm.

It removed most of the incentives to invest in Canada. It penalized those who had worked hard to be comfortable in their old age. And it did sweet Fanny Adams to produce the equity the man talked about. The rich are still going to be rich, the poor still poor, and the middle class pinched until it's painful.

However, let us not despair. We still live in a country where very few people go hungry or freeze to death, where there is a pretty fair social welfare system, here there is still freedom to tell your superiors to go peer up a rope.

I can still write in this column that our Prime Minister is an arrogant egg-head, and papers across the land will print it, many with gusto, not to mention relish.

Not that I'd ever do such a thing, mind you. I believe in proper respect for our leaders. I merely think the P.M. is an added egg. Not a coddled egg. An added egg.

Aside from the economic picture, the worst news for 1982 is that Mr. Trudeau might be talked into running for office again, to fight the separatists in Quebec. After he's licked them, he'll be persuaded to run again to fight the provincialists in the Northwest Territories. And then he'll be carted around the country in a wheelchair to fight anyone who doesn't think that the Liberal party is God's gift to Canada. Shades of Mackenzie King.

But I mustn't talk like this. It's not beholden to a benevolent old chap, though younger than Mr. T., to criticize the man who has almost single-handedly wrestled inflation to the heights, presided over the worst unemployment situation in 40 years, and run up a national debt that will make our grandchildren curse us.

Let us talk of more pleasant things for 1982. I'm not going to make any New Year's resolutions. As I tell my wife, when you are practically perfect, there's no point in trying to improve. Her answer must not be printed in a family journal.

But I do have some predictions for the new year. My arthritis is going to get worse. My children will continue to be in Financial Straits (that's just one jump ahead of Dire Straits, which separate the sheep, them, from the goat, me).

It'll be a terrible year for the farmers. There'll be either a drought or too much rain. In the event that neither happens, that the weather is perfect for farming, there'll be complaints that "the crops are taking too much out of the land."

Despite its new status as a Royal something or other, the post office will break down sometime during the year, and Michael Warren, it's new boss, will develop an ulcer.

There will be many strikes, most of which will settle nothing except the pride of union leaders and the stubbornness of management.

Native people will become more and more belligerent, and with the help of lawyers, will demand a return of all the Hudson Bay Company's lands, along with the vast empire handed over to the C.P.R. More power to them, if they could get some trains

EDC representative ready to help out

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

Not long ago the Economic Development Commission advertised for an individual who would be interested in assisting them with their work on a small salary plus expenses. What they hoped to find was a retired businessman with a lot of expertise that was more interested in finding something constructive to do than making a lot of money. They found that there are quite a number of such people in our community and they had some very worthy applicants.

John Fleming was hired for the "position" and has spent much of his time since then becoming completely familiar with the various avenues of assistance that are open to businessmen who have problems. At about the same time John started, the Ministry of Industry and Tourism introduced a program to create "Small Business Information Centres" through Chambers of Commerce. A manual was developed and workshops set up to provide participants with all the information and direction they could think of to assist small businesses to deal with the problems of coping with today's economy. John attended the workshop and has the manual that the Ministry prepared. He may not have all the answers but if there is an answer to your problem he can either obtain it for you or direct you to the people that can.

Recently John talked to one business that was considering a major expansion to their manufacturing facilities, another that had made some unwise financial arrangements and were looking for ways to re-finance what they now have, and another who wanted to know some details about DREE incentives to prepare for the possibility of a designation for this area. He was able to provide all of them with some worthwhile advice and we hope that the assistance he is providing will help to create more development in the County and of course more jobs as a result.

If you have either a problem with your business, or are simply giving some thought to expansion or new avenues of endeavour, give John a call, either through our Chamber office 286-1760, or at home at 457-2263. Your consultations are in complete confidence and your only cost is your time. What could be fairer than that.

Toronto Sportsman Show

Details of this year's display at the Toronto Sportsmen Show have been decided and the show takes place as usual during March break, from March 19 to 28. We have this year been able to move our location just slightly to give us a corner booth which will provide us with even better exposure.

Members are again being invited to participate this year, but in a slightly different manner. A new back drop will be made up and those members paying a rack fee of $60 will have an 8x10 colour picture of their establishment displayed, a short description and a rack of literature beside it. Since the literature will not be accessible from the aisle it will cut down on most of the waste that usually takes place from "collectors". Those wishing to also attend the show for two days to promote their business will also have their business promoted in the same manner for the duration of the show. The charge for this would be $120. A limited number of spaces will be available so members are urged to make their plans to participate shortly.

"Some set more by such things as come from a distance, but I recollect mother always used to maintain that folks was meant to be doctored with the stuff that grew right about 'em'."

--Sarah Orne Jewett

American writer (1849-1909)

And so it is that George Pratt will finally be coming home. Not in body necessarily, but in a creation of his mind and hands.

Pratt grew up at South Lake, very near to the village of Minden. And while he had left the highlands for the rainy shores of British Columbia, long before I came to Haliburton county, I hope I caught a glimpse of his personality during a short telephone conversation that eliminated the miles between us.

Even though he acknowledged he was a "fairly sought-after artist", he did it with modesty; the kind of modesty that restrains local artists, especially talented individuals, from increasing their prices beyond the reach of local residents.

George Pratt was once a local, unknown artist too. He enjoyed wood carving; he and his brother apparently cultivated their carving interest into a small business in the community. When Pratt had the opportunity to learn from a prominent Canadian sculptor he begged for an ounce of knowledge.

It is not only the techniques E.B. Cox taught Pratt that has made him a successful sculptor. Although, I have no way of knowing, I assume Pratt has attained that degree of self-discipline most of us spend a life-time hoping to attain.

Now that Minden has a cultural centre, which was little more than a dream when Pratt travelled west, he has humbly asked if they would accept a specifically designed sculpture for the centre.

Work is scheduled to begin on the sculpture in mid-March; when it is finished Pratt hopes to personally transport the creation back to his roots.

The fact that a well-known artist would spend his time to create a sculpture for his home town is an immeasurable compliment for the town and the artist.

Storm cancels game, Huskies lose match

Blizzard conditions forced the cancellation of the Huskies second scheduled game of the week-end, depriving the team of a chance to atone for a loss Friday night in Penetang.

Gravenhurst was unable to travel to Minden for Sunday's game when police closed Highway 11 as a result of blowing snow and near zero visibility. Other teams in the league faced similar problems on Sunday, as games had to be cancelled. There was no indication of when or if the games would be re-scheduled.

Friday, the Huskies had no trouble travelling to Penetang, but the had plenty of trouble on the ice. Despite a strong first period that gave them a 3-1 lead, the local club was unable to follow through in the final two periods and went down to defeat, 7-5.

Dave Nicholls and Tim Davies led the Huskies scoring attack in the early going, teaming up for three goals in the opening period.

Nicholls gave the Huskies the lead at 3:58 on a play set up by Ron Yake and Davies. Barely a minute later, Davies made it 2-0 with help from Yake and Nicholls.

Penetang found their skating legs from that point and managed to slow down the Huskies attackers. At the 11:59 mark the home team got on the board on a three way play that beat the Huskies defense and goal tender Colin Newell.

A holding call against Penetang gave the Huskies a man advantage at the 12:24 mark, and at 13:38 the pressure paid off, as Davies notched his second with help from Yake and Nicholls.

Neither team could alter the score for the rest of the period, as the Huskies fought to hold on to their two goal advantage.

The momentum swung to Penetang early in the second period after an interference call against defenseman Jim Lee brought out Penetang's power play. The man advantage resulted in a goal at 1:45 and drew the home team to within one goal.

Penalties continued to be a factor throughout the period as the Huskies found themselves a man short on four more occasions, but Penetang managed only one more goal to tie the score going into the third period.

A little over five minutes into the final frame, Penetang moved into the lead on a two way play. The goal came at 5:17 with the team at full strength.

The Huskies came back quickly to tie the score however, as Ron Yake found the mesh with help from Nicholls and Davies.

Minden ousted early

Final games provided thrilling moments

The local squad didn't make it to the championship finals in the Minden juvenile tournament, Saturday, but the last games were exciting nonetheless. The consolation match was decided in sudden death overtime and the last 36 seconds of the championship match were played with only one goalie on the ice.

Minden lost its first game of the tournament as a strong Oakwood team skated a 4-2 victory. Oakwood set the stage for the game as the team scored its first goal only 15 seconds into the first period. Oakwood took another point at the 8:57 mark.

Minden tried to battle back but it wasn't until 30 seconds had passed in the third period that Ivan Ingram connected from Glen Evans and Tim Wood. Only a minute and 10 seconds later Scot Hamilton tied the match as Antony Vanlieshout and Evans set up a perfect passing play.

An ill-timed penalty cost the local team the game however, as Oakwood cashed in on its power play midway through the period. Oakwood confirmed its victory by widening its margin less than 30 seconds later.

Other first round play saw Fenelon Falls defeat Uxbridge 6-2 and Pickering walked by Bobcaygeon with a 5-1 score. South River was given a bye into the second round of the championship match.

The South River team was soon eliminated from championship contest as Oakwood moved on with a 3-2 win. Fenelon Falls downed Pickering by a 2-1 score.

In the championship match Oakwood and Fenelon Falls faced off. The game was tight but Oakwood couldn't muster enough steam to overtake the Fenelon team so the underdogs tried to tie the match in the final minute. With six men on the ice Oakwood was pushing hard but a Fenelon player broke away and skated swiftly out of it's end zone to pocket another goal in Oakwood's empty net.

South River ended up in the consolation championship match against Uxbridge. The teams were evenly matched throughout the game and the score remained tied at one goal when the official time ended. In a five minute sudden death overtime match, South River scored the winning goal 55 seconds into the period.

Ivan Ingram presented the Don Gartshore Memorial Trophy to South River's captain for winning the consolation match.

Atoms shut out Bobcaygeon

The Haliburton OMHA Atoms started out the new year on the right track, winning two games. On Tuesday night they travelled to Bobcaygeon and very convincingly defeated the Bobcaygeon boys 7-0.

Haliburton scored two goals early in the first period and never looked back in one of their better efforts of the season. Stephen Prime, Jeff Francis and Philip Johnston all fired two goals for the locals with Kelly Youngdale picking up the other marker. Jeff Francis also picked up two assists as did John Vukic and Greg Scheffee. Gavin McKnight in the Haliburton goal played a strong game to register the shut out.

The local team played at home on Wednesday night, hosting Minden, and came away with a 7-3 victory. Minden scored first in the game and kept the game close until the third period. The score at the end of the second period was 4-3 but the local boys counted three unanswered markers in the third period to gain the victory.

Haliburton got a strong game from their three defencemen, Jeff Smith, Darren Byers and Shaun Perrin and along with some good back-checking by the forwards and solid goal tending gained their second victory in two nights. Haliburton scoring was as follows: Greg Scheffee assisted by Jeff Francis, Steven Prime; Phil Johnston from John Vukic and Kelly Youngdale; John Vukic from Johnston and Youngdale; Steven Prime from Francis and Scheffee; Francis from Scheffee and Prime; Johnston from Francis and Darren Byers; and Scheffee from Francis and Prime.

The boys travel to Bancroft this Saturday for a tournament and play their last scheduled game in Minden on January 21.

Huskies players chosen for league all-star team

Three Haliburton Huskies players have been selected by the Georgian Bay Junior 'C' league's All-Star team to compete against an all-star team from southern Ontario. The Georgian Bay all-star team, which drafted only Kevin O'Hara from the Huskies last season, has chosen Ron Yake, Dave Nicholls and Scott Arbutnot from the Haliburton squad.

The all-star team will play only one game this season against their annual competitors representing southern Ontario's Junior 'C' circuit. The game is scheduled for Saturday at Schomberg.

Cross-country skiers win badges for achievements

Cross-country skiing is becoming more popular every winter and now enthusiasts have a chance to mark their mileage achievements with Count The Kilometres badges.

The new program sponsored by Carlsberg, a branch of Carling O'Keefe Breweries of Canada Ltd., offers three badges for varying degrees of skiing achievements. The 15 kilometre award is suggested for skiers who are becoming proficient and can capably cover the distance in one day. While 15 kilometres is not extremely difficult it is not recommended for beginners. The 25 kilometre badge awards skiers for travelling 25 kilometres during one day workout. The badge can be a statement of achievement for the serious skier.

Finally, the gold award is given to skiers who complete 200 kilometres during the skiing season. Each award is accompanied by a participation certificate suitable for framing.

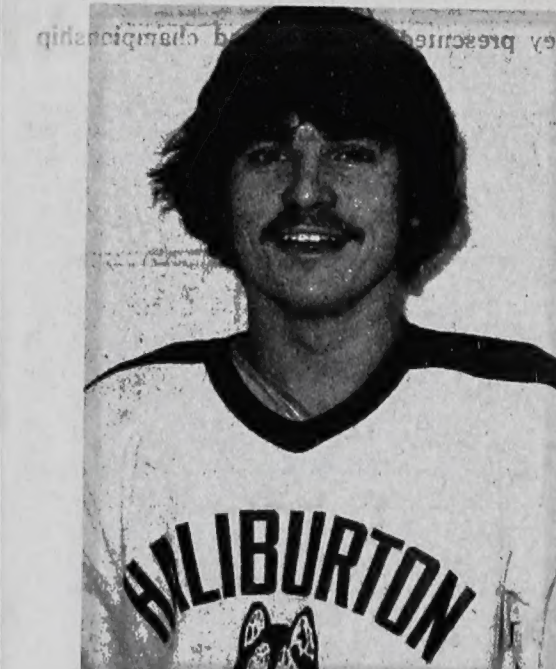

Skiers must be 19 years or older and must complete the kilometres on marked or groomed trails. Registration forms are available at Sunny Rock Lodge, near Ingoldsby, and all kilometre achievements must be verified by a witness and the resort owner or trail owner. Badges are on display at the lodge.

Haliburton team wins 'B' division

New York and Oak Ridges won the Carpentier grand championships

Andy Carpentier, son of Alcide Carpentier, presented the 'A' grand championship trophy to Amherst, New York's captain.

Last week-end some of the most exciting hockey of the year was displayed as 16 teams of PeeWee aged boys competed in the annual Alcide Carpentier tournament co-sponsored by the LKTA and Haliburton Minor Hockey.

In the "B" division, the local boys were victorious in winning the championship in an exciting over time game against Bancroft, only to lose to the consolation champs from Oak Ridges for the grand championship. To reach the final game Haliburton had to win in two over time games.

In their first game against Keswick, the local boys won 4-3 in an over time shoot-off with both Erin Nicholls and Colin Hunter beating the Keswick netminder. Haliburton then defeated Minden 6-1 to advance to the championship game against Bancroft. This proved to be an exciting finish as the Haliburton boys came from a 2-0 losing position to win 3-2 in over time.

In the consolation side Oak Ridges lost their opening game 4-3 to Bancroft but then came on strongly to defeat Burlington 7-0 and Keswick 4-3, setting the stage for an exciting grand championship game.

Much of the play was dominated by fast skating and good checking by the two evenly matched games. Oak Ridges opened the scoring with only 4:04 remaining in the period on a blast from Jason Cairns. Only 25 seconds later Fred Rossi made the score 2-0 on a nice solo play. Oak Ridges earned what proved to be an insurmountable lead in the second period when Frank Busnello streaked over the blue line and after pulling the defence to one side, fed a perfect pass to Tom Seymour who banged it home. Haliburton continued to work hard and in the third period Jaro Cooper poked in the rebound on a nice play from Jeff Popple and Colin Hunter. Oak Ridges was again able to shut down Haliburton shooters however, and went on to win 3-1. Steve Robinson received the trophies for Oak Ridges for both the Grand "B" championship and "B" consolation winners. Captain Erin Nicholls for Haliburton received the team trophy for the "B" champions.

Between this game and the start of the "A" grand championship game trophies were awarded to the top players in the tournament. On the "B" side Haliburton's Darryl Goodall earned the best goaltender, while Erin Nicholls was voted the Most Valuable Player in the tournament. The Best Forward went to Marcus Rulli and the Best Defence to Jason Cairns both from Oak Ridges. The outstanding players in the "A" division were David Bain and Rob Clark from Guelph as co-winners of the Best Goal-tender. Big Glen Tarrant from Amherst was voted the top forward.

The Most Sportsmanlike Team trophy was awarded to fine group from Burlington while Paul Sullivan earned the MVP from Amherst. The Best Defenceman award was voted to Mark Dille from Unionville.

In the "A" division a very strong team from Amherst, NY earned a berth in the grand championship finals by defeating Guelph 8-1, Willowdale 7-6 and Hillcrest in the "A" championship game, 5-2. Unionville on the other hand lost their opening game 6-5 to Hillcrest but then went on to defeat Kingston 5-3 and Guelph 4-3 to win the "A"

Rick Wood presented the best goaltender of the tournament to Haliburton's Daryl Goodall.

Tim Casey presented the 'B' grand championship trophy to Oak Ridges captain.

Erin Nicholls received the most valuable player award from Rick Wood.

Haliburton PeeWees won 'B' division championship

Haliburton Bantams faced tough competitors when Oak Ridges team began vying for the 'B' grand championship. Haliburton's captain Erin Nicholls was outskating the Oak Ridges team as they moved swiftly down the ice.

Happy Gang News

By Watson Anderson

Christmas and New Years are past, the holiday spirit will be allowed to subside and everyone will be back earning a living and the funds needed to buy gas for travel. Around and around she goes and where it will stop no one knows. Monday was used to demolish the decorations, leaving only the tinsel for next year. On our walk with the cleats on, our thoughts turned to vandalism and what should be done. If you were to ask any veteran who survived either world war, he or she would tell you that military service makes a man or woman. Surely it does not require a war to make responsible citizens. Compulsory training in the last two teen age years should be a must in our society to train these lads and lassies in citizenship, and call it an army to fight for peace and not destruction. Just wearing a uniform decorated with the medal of merit for a couple of their tender years should do wonders. If Trudeau gets the idea it should be done and made to work.

Extending, Haliburton being a Scottish institution serves porridge at breakfast, Scottish style, having the serving lassies juggle the bowls among us according to size. How they learn to do that juggling act is something to behold and being Scottish none is wasted. It is rumoured that they are planning to similarly juggle French Canadian pea soup when it is served at the noon meal.

We were somewhat disappointed that June Devolin was unable to lead us in the Tuesday morning bible study. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Betty Wise and Helen Archer assisted at our bingo in the afternoon with Allen Macklin calling and snowbanks six feet tall outside. These games are held in the dining room using the dining tables where there is lots of room.

Allan McEachan, the Minister of finance, has promised to tax perks, whatever they are. From his point of view he may deem the bingo prizes to be perks and therefore taxable. If they are taxable we would rather pay after rather than before the fact. We may comment here that before the budget perks had become really big business, a huge loop hole and worthy of taxation.

Wednesday morning started quietly but soon the Gang became a beehive of industry. The gentlemen tackled a half dozen magazine racks, buffing and varnishing them to the finished state all ready for sale to net us scarce funds. The ladies, Vera Griffin, Beryl Morrow, Noreen Stevens, Maud Weston, Sylvia Gilbert and Vivian Bowen plied needles and thread to make a great variety of dainty things for sale at our next rummage.

In the afternoon the Happy Gang held their regular monthly meeting and one of the items discussed was to learn which one of us should be doing the work that makes the activities smoother, pushing a snow scoop for instance, and after an hour were no further forward. We do not like the staff to order it and we do not like to tell each other to do it. The wheel chair van fund is still viable but seemingly sleepy. A possible flea market may come to the village each Wednesday during June, July and August in the auspices of the Happy Gang just to give them some work, because, after all, that is what makes most people happy.

Games and exercises were held Thursday morning to try to restore suppleness to everyone and to show what contortions are possible, all in fun. Everyone sits in a circle and stretches the arms outward, upward, forward and backward. It gets a little tricky but nevertheless it is done. In the afternoon, Noreen Stevens, Allan Macklin, Vera Griffin, Hazel Parisch, Vivian Bowen, Nina Hussey, Jim Allen, Flossie Burk, Elsie Porter and Lila Simmons undertook to make a chocolate cake with chocolate topping with the guidance of Ivy Shaw as a favour to a friend of the Happy Gang. The ingredients were assembled, duly mixed to a batter then baked, resulting in beauty to behold. Putting the topping on was like gilding the lily. It was a beautiful cake so let us hope it was just as tasty.

Quilt show now at gallery

Exhibition opened with presentations to winners

The Gallery opened its doors to the New Year with a fine quilt exhibition, which took the form of a competition. All quilts entered for judging have been made in the last two years by Haliburton County residents and were judged by Mrs. Margaret Carr of Fenelon Falls and Mrs. Eileen Junkin of Dunford. There were four classes and the winners received $30 for first prize and $20 for second. All entrants received critiques from the judges. The winners were: First prize, patchwork: Eleanor Young, Lochlin; Second prize, patchwork: Muriel Bird, RR2 Minden. First prize, applique, Eleanor Young, Lochlin; second prize, applique: Elaine Jackson, Haliburton. First prize, novice: Margaret Baker, Eagle Lake; second prize: Barbara Pierce, Haliburton. First prize, group: Guild group, Haliburton; second: Fort Irwin residents, Fort Irwin, Ont. (RR1 Hal.)

The Gallery was organized by the Guild Quilting Group, who worked closely with the curator. They formulated the rules, designed the entry forms and distributed them by hand and by phone. Several group members offered to pick up quilts being mindful of weather conditions. This group works hard to make money for Gallery programs by donating their "prize-winning" quilt for raffle. The prize money was donated and costs of postage and transportation were saved.

On January 28, a machine quilting workshop will be held in the Gallery and Kathleen Copeland of Peterborough is instructing. Mrs. Carr remarked that, "This group (Guild quilters) must have had fun working together on this quilt." Most of the quilting was done in the Guild room where it is now on display.

A beautiful log cabin quilt was made by the Eagle Lake group. They will also raffle their quilt. As you enter the Gallery you can see charming

My wife says "Why do you always start your letter about church, or Sunday night? Isn't there some other topic you could start to write?"

Well, we have a fellow here who really likes to eat. One day, he thought he would order for himself a little treat. He asked for onion sandwiches, with cheese and sliced tomato. The waiter misunderstood him, and served him fried potatoes. Then we have a lady who always looks so pert - some days she wears a lovely gown, then others, blouse and skirt. This is what she ordered, when she sat down to dinner - a nice piece of well-cooked pork, without any rind, and a potato baked right in it's skin. Also for a beverage, a small glass of gin.

Now, I will tell you of the service Sunday night, of the ones who do their parts, and always do them right. Harold Thompson read the lesson and also did in praying. Mrs. Thompson helped in singing and also did the playing. Then Rev. Burgess' turn comes next. He always has for us, a real interesting text. Monday afternoon, the ladies made things hum.

consolation championship. Amherst left little doubt as to who was going to be the grand champion as they started the scoring at 1:45 of the first period with Glenn Tarrant putting home a pass from Paul Donovan. Only six seconds later, Paul Donovan scored on a neat pass from his winger, Glenn Tarrant. Unionville fought back however, and mid way through the period made the score 2-1 when Mark Lilley scored from best Christians. Maybe they will call it the wittiest of wit but we call it silly.

The Rev. John Smith, pastor of Lakeside Baptist Church in Haliburton conducted the Friday morning

Mitch Corless. From that point on, the game belonged to Amherst with Paul Sullivan scoring twice and Dan Mehan, Joel Berkman, John Busse, Todd Taylor, Joe Swaley and Glenn Tarrant scoring singles.
Final score was Amherst 10 and Unionville 1.

Stars of the game for Amherst were goaltender Andy Clanso and #10 Larry Stopper. The star for Unionville was Paul Yeo.

Huskies lose one match, the other game cancelled

Neither team gained a clear advantage for the next few minutes of play, but near the 10 minute mark Penetang netted another to regain the lead.

Then a spate of penalties against the Huskies began to take their toll.

Two quick goals between the 11 and 12 minute mark gave Penetang a 7-4 lead, and the advantage proved insurmountable, despite the Huskies efforts as the period wound down.

All they could manage was a single goal at 15:03 as Dave Nicholls got his second of the night, assisted by Scott Arbuthnot.

Final score was Penetang 7, the Huskies 5.

This Friday, the Huskies will travel to Bracebridge for a game against the Bears. Sunday, they'll host Bracebridge at the Dysart arena. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The text was taken from Paul's letter to the Philippians in which he urges a greater striving in the service of Christ for the future rather than dwell unduly about what is behind. This time we missed the after service meeting and of course the snack.

Three movies were shown in the afternoon. Ray Smith projectionist. 1. 'Beyond the Grampians' showing the Scottish Highlands to be much the same as Haliburton, but there, agriculture is a really serious business using the nutrition of their not too plentiful tillable acreage, to the fullest and even continuing to improve it. Trust a Scot to get the most and it can be done in Haliburton if need were more urgent as it is in Scotland. 2. 'Fiddles and Whimydiddles', a facetious look at folklore, and 'Crafts of my province' showing what a middle aged couple can do in clay and pottery in New Brunswick if their aim is excellence, in sculpture and miniature statuettes. You see, decrepit as we are we are still trying to learn more to take along.

Sunday morning was an ideal opportunity to watch the acid rain pouring suffocatingly out of tail pipes. We suggest sometime you get a bit of blue litmus paper and hold it in that fog to watch it turn red. You may be interested and then wonder why Canada is blaming Uncle Sam our greatest of benefactors of history next to Britain. As a contrast we think of France who abandoned Quebec for three centuries and sold Louisiana to the U.S.A. for a mess of pottage. That is why it is a mystery to us that Canada has insisted on the tower of Babel concept embracing French.

I must tell you about Mrs. Plum. Now here is a lady with just one good hand. Yet she is doing picture painting, which is just simply grand.

Tuesday morning, Mr. El-Lott held a nice communion service in the chapel here. Our girls came to sing and play. They are so sincere.

Tuesday afternoon, Bingo in the auditorium, where some play there every week,

Tuesday night is music night here at Hyland Crest. Earl and Cathy came again, we are really blessed. They're very welcome guests. They played square dance, round dance, also heel and toe. Then Kathy played the accordion, and we sang Christmas carols, until it was time to go. We thank you both for coming here to entertain, and will look forward to the time when you come back again.

Wednesday night was games night in the auditorium, where I both lost and won.

The ladies from the Minden region, but who belong to the Haliburton Legion put on a nice tea party on Thursday afternoon. Thank you ladies, for coming. May you come back real soon.

Fun and Fitness Friday morning is where they put you through your paces - in fact I exercised so hard, I busted my good braces.

Friday afternoon is singing time again in 1982. Mrs. Cobourn and Fred Ballard came as they always do. It really is quite nice to see them both appear for we haven't seen them since sometime last year. Mrs. Cobourn read some humorous poems, and led us in the singing. Fred Ballard played the music - much pleasure they are always bringing. Can you say, in parting with the day that's slipping past. That you've helped a single person, of the many you have passed? Is a single life rejoicing over what you did or said, Does someone, whose hopes are fading, Now with courage look ahead. Until next time.

Quebec will continue to be a thorn in the side of not only the whole country, but of itself. The Anglos of that province will grow more pugnacious, which will make the Francophones more intransigent. And so on.

The province of Ontario, after its smashing success in buying a quarter of an oil company, for no known reason, will attempt to buy Saudi Arabia, only to find that Alberta, with its Heritage Fund, has beaten them to the punch.

The Alotollah Khomaini of Iran will convert to the Jewish faith and dance ring-around-a-rosy with the other old bandit, Begin of Israel.

Newspapers across the land will stop printing their headlines in gloomy black and start printing the joyous news of strikes, inflation, interest rates, and unemployment in purple.

The federal government will print full-page ads saying it was all a printer's error and that those Canada Savings Bonds that were gobbled up last November were paying 9.5 per cent interest, not 19.25.

Whatever, I hope you and yours have a wonderful year in 1982.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Under the rather late heading this week, sincere congratulations go out to Jack and Dawn Simioni on the arrival of their son on January 3. Ryan Gregory achieved the distinction of being the first baby to be born at the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital in 1982.

Also a little behind, as far as Monmouth's Centennial year is concerned, but a time-less future memento, was the distribution of 100 mugs this past week in the Wilberforce area. Children from infants to age 13 received the English China mugs bearing the Township crest, and decorated with the dates celebrated by the Centennial. Tory Hill and Essonville children were also given these gifts, certain to be collectors' items, by the Centennial Committee.

It's always good to hear from former residents of our community who've made new beginnings elsewhere. Such was the case when Jim Miller was in touch over the New Years' holiday to wish all his former neighbours and friends greetings from Gun, Alberta. The family is fine, and they all have their own riding horse. Pamela is taking music lessons, and Chris plays in the band. Jim was pleased to report that he has attended speech therapy classes, and has been able to master his impediment. He was the oldest one attending the clinic, and everyone is pleased with his continuing progress.

Refreshing, invigorating, stimulating - these were some of the descriptive phrases heard over the past week as the old mercury dipped as low as the -32 degrees F. Other more negative terms were also in abundance; by any body's scale, it all registers COLD! I guess we've just become a bit spoiled by our rather gentle weather so far this season. After all, we hardy Canadians are born with snowshoes on foot, and hockey stick in hand, right? Well, maybe not quite. But there are some foolproof methods to help not only maintain your sanity till blackfly time (there now, didn't just that one word make you love January a little bit?), but to actually enjoy it all.

As the wind whips all that white stuff about outside, why bother heroically battling? Be a coward. Plug the kettle in, snuggle up under a cozy blanket, and dive into the escapist's dream come true, in the form of a book from Bessie. For the more questioning mind, a major theme is 'aircraft through space', complete with display and appropriate texts available now. Monmouth Library hours are 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. Tuesday and Friday, and 1:30

- 3:30 Thursday and Friday. This Friday, January 15, there'll be a fun night, featuring a craft class, plus other events. Come at 7 p.m., kids, and find out for yourselves! For the more sports-minded, there's always an abundance of exciting hockey of the type we saw last Friday night when our Inter-City Tire team challenged the Maynooth Rangers at Monmouth arena. When the Rangers led 4-2 right into the last

When a big snowstorm hits the land today, the counter-offensive goes into action as soon as the weather man gives the nod, and snow plows, and trucks weighted with sand and salt start pushing the snow off the highways and byways all over the country. In the early years of the present century, the storms had to blow themselves out before the horses and snow roller took over. The heavy huge barrel shaped roller was drawn by four or five teams of horses, and would roll down the snow and drifts so that the families would get to town, or where ever they needed to go. Snow rolling days are done and there aren't many folk around who remember them. But a few remain who look out the window on a winter's day at falling flakes and recall the days when they were part of a crew that rolled the roads after a winter's storm.

There will be a community shower at the Minden United Church Hall on Wednesday, February 3, in aid of Fred and Bess Cox, who lost their home last year. The shower will start at 7:30 p.m., and a warm welcome is extended for all who wish to attend.

Don't forget the Minden Nursery Play School are having public skating at the arena every Thursday in January starting at 2 p.m. and ending at 3 p.m. They invite the public to join with them. The price is 75 cents.

Though the noblest disposition you inherit and your character with piety is packed; all such qualities have very little merit, unless accompanied by tact.

There will be movies shown in the common room of the Library - Cultural centre on Friday, January 22 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. for children. Then on Monday, January 25 films for adults will be shown from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Sunday was so cold everyone stayed home and kept warm, but we were lucky here after seeing pictures of the blizzards in the States.

There was an article in the Toronto Star on Saturday in the Age of Reason column which said "Do food stores really help elderly?" It was very interesting but I think we are very lucky with our food stores up here for if you see a piece of meat you would like and it is too large all you have to do is have a smaller piece cut off it. The clerks are all very obliging and there are always small cans of vegetables and other edibles available for the seniors. Maybe the city stores should come up and get some hints from our grocery stores.

Sweet potato fruit casserole: 4 cups cooked, mashed sweet potatoes; 1 8 oz can fruit cocktail, drained; 2 eggs well beaten; 2 tbsp. melted butter; 1 tsp. finely ground orange peel; 1 tsp. finely ground crystallized ginger. Mix all ingredients together in order given. Turn into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with 12 large marshmallows. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Registration night for the second term of the Minden Nursery Play School will be on January 21 at 8 p.m. in St. Paul's Church Parish Hall. "NO" registrations will be accepted after January 21. For more information or if you wish to register your child early phone 286-1267 or 286-2602.

The Almanac says we are going to have to wait until April for the milder weather to set in so hang on to those heavy togs for a few months yet.

You know what worries me? Doctors are now saying that smoking is four times worse than they originally thought - and what they originally thought is that it would kill you.

Winners at last week's mini card party were: cribbage - Nettie Wilson (on a cut), Cora Hewitt, Euchre - lone hands - Ida Holmes, Verna McDonald, Alice Todd.

There was a good attendance at the United Church Women's meeting in the Church Hall last Wednesday evening. The Devotional was conducted by Mrs. Don Berry and Mrs. W. Moore and dealt with the new year. Mrs. Robert Herlihey took us on a delightful trip of the British Isles and showed slides of some very interesting places.

The president made several announcements. The Martha group will be serving tea at Hyland Crest Home on February 4.

The dates were set for the summer dinner on July 14 and the Christmas luncheon and bazaar on November 19. Adios and take care now.

Winners in the euchre held in the Community Hall were as follows: ladies' first: Marion West, ladies' second: Elva Hannivan, consolation: Laura Irwin, men's first: Dave Crichton, men's second: Robinette Hardey, consolation: Marj Fountain. Most lone hands was Hilda Chynoweth.

Winners in the bridge games were - First: Peggy Baker, second: Bill Robinson, consolation: Violet Ganong. The senior citizens are back to holding card games each Tuesday night, so if you enjoy cards, make your way to the community hall.

Yet a third sudden death on High Street or Grandy Road has taken place in less than three months. Ken Fralick passed away suddenly last Saturday morning, January 2 as he was chopping a little ice on his sidewalk. It was a shock to neighbours and to daughter Clara who had a shovel removing the loose ice as Ken chopped it up. Our sympathy to Ruth and to Clara in the loss of a loved one.

Maizie Kelly who has been ill for many months, and finally got out of hospital to spend Christmas with her sister at Nogie's Creek, Bobcaygeon, is again back in Civic hospital, Peterborough, having taken ill at New Years. She needs words of cheer and your prayers as she has been away from her Coboconk home for many months.

I am sorry to report that Grant Benson has been in Ross Memorial Hospital and also, Sam Mathewson has been in Ross Memorial for a couple of weeks. I trust you gentlemen are feeling better and are home soon.

Mrs. Ruth Hall and Cindy McCall of Lindsay were visitors of Millie and Sam Routley last week.

Mrs. Rae Brock is home after a holiday with several relatives at Smith Falls over Christmas and New Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Payne are enjoying a holiday in South Africa, their home until they moved here about three years ago.

The little Faulkner girls are back home in Peterborough with daddy John Faulkner and enjoyed a holiday with grandma and grandpa Faulkner, several cousins, aunts and uncles here.

Congratulations to Cora Lake who celebrates her "well over eighty" birthday on the 14th.

A public meeting is planned for January 16, 1982 at 2 p.m. in the community centre for residents of Somerville Township. The meeting, by invitation of John Huke who sent out flyers to the residents will deal with guidelines in regards to developments of certain land areas, where properties may be developed, or built on, discussions on obnoxious uses in close proximity to shoreline areas, etc. This will give a clearer guideline for everyone, including the Somerville Council. This will be provided or presented by Victoria County Planning Director and members of his staff. If you are a Somerville taxpayer, make it a point to attend this meeting because it concerns your future in your township. With so many moving out to the area, one never knows where a wreck-

Sympathy at this time to Ruth Fraleck, all family and friends of Ken Fraleck of Coboconk, who died January 3, at his home.

Also to family and friends of Marguerite Curtin who died last week, in hospital.

W.S. (Sam) Hancock, who was born and raised at Irondale, went on to become a railway engineer. For a number of years he lived with his family at Port Arthur until his death in hospital on January 5, at the Pas. He leaves sisters and brothers in this area: Violet Cooke, Grace Simmons, Steve, Max and Joe Hancock, all of Irondale, Gertrude Travis of Eagle Lake and Herb Hancock of Minden. He was also predeceased by brothers, George and Harold. Sam was in his seventieth year and will be missed by all who knew him.

There was some malicious damage around our town this past week. A glass section of the P.O. door was smashed, as was a heat vent in the lobby floor. Then, the same morning the damage was discovered, Ida Young, our postal delivery lady was involved in an accident involving her Datsun pickup and another car as she was leaving on her deliveries.

Happy birthday to Bill Lilley of Norland who will be 75 on January 19.

Little Jennie Rolfe was a sick wee girl last week and spent a couple of days in Ross Memorial Hospital. Get well soon Jennie.

Barb Fountain was also suffering a bad cold last week.

Charlene and Steven Fountain, Rita Stroud and daughters, Susan and Beth, all of Oshawa, were new year guests of Clara and Ambrose Watson of Howland Junction Road.

The results of the St. Patrick's euchre party, December 22, was: men's high: Dick Holbrook, men's low: Jack Sweetman, ladies' high: Irene McNamara, ladies' low: Gladys Anderson. Dick Holbrook was the big winner of the night, also taking most lone hands. Lucky draws were won by Mary Phillips, Margaret Kylie and Norma Hamilton.

On January 5 the St. Patrick's euchre results were: ladies' high: Marg Scarlett, ladies' low: Clara Watson, men's high: Dave McNamara, men's low: Jim Simpson and Dave McNamara also took most lone hands.

Ruby Schell and Nora Swinson enjoyed dinner and a pleasant evening at the home of Bill and Win Wilson on January 6.

A beef dinner was prepared by the proprietors of the Fish and Chip Wagon in Kinmount, for the very successful New Year dance held at our Community Hall. Some 80 to 85 happy people enjoyed dinner and dancing to the music of disc jockey, Roland Hamilton of Kinmount.

I enjoyed a very nice first time visit, by phone, with Arnold Schroter on Friday night, January 8.

A coming event to remember is called Cookout #1 and will be held Saturday, January 23, 1982 beginning at 3 p.m. The place to meet is in Bill Scott's field at the foot of the hill behind the Canadian Legion in Kinmount. There will be a registration fee of $2 each which will be put to a 50/50 basis; half to feed the good crowd that is expected and the other half to go towards the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association. There are approximately 750 sleds registered in the Association and these good folks wish to extend a warm welcome to all you snowmobilers to come out and enjoy the day.

Another coming event: the Kinmount and District Horticultural Society will be holding their annual meeting on Thursday, January 28 at 6 p.m., at the Canadian Legion Hall in Kinmount. A pot luck supper and penny table will be included and any dona-

"Those who are proud of keeping a tidy and orderly desk never know the thrill of finding something they thought they had irretrievably lost."

We really don't have any real complaints about our winter so far. We have had a few below zero nights but no long period of sub zero temperatures. Also, no violent or long lasting snow storms. Of course, a lot can happen between now and April first, but we can be thankful for what we have had so far. In comparison to many other parts of the country and the world we have been very fortunate.

The fish huts are beginning to dot the ice so we hope there are lots of fish out there and that they are hungry.

And one of our gifts from our Government, I guess, is having metric shoved down our throats. Not one person in a thousand seems to want or approve it but seem helpless to do anything but accept it. Prices in the stores keep on going up each week and the cost of the change over from standard to metric is so costly that the merchants will have to boost prices to pay for it. Why, oh why, couldn't they have left things as they were? A person doesn't know what they are paying for - a gallon of gas or a pound of hamburger anymore. Confusion reigns supreme.

from page 10 minutes of the third period, it looked like it was all over for our guys. But they came back in a rush, scoring during the last three minutes and providing some real edge-of-the-seat entertainment. Alas, not quite enough to tie it up though, which leaves the two teams tied for first place. These games have been drawing sizable crowds, which is great to see in a community where the 'old' arena was the centre of town during the winter months of years ago. Next games will be at home on Friday, January 15 at 8:30 p.m., and Saturday, January 16 at 7 p.m. These will be the last two games of the regular schedule before the playoffs start, so they should be worth watching.

For those who would rather participate than spectate, let's not forget the other ice surface across the street. Before this building existed, and prior to the addition on the old arena, appropriate rinks were set up on the main ice. Figure skates, hockey pucks, and curling rocks thus alternated in its use. Now, through the hard work of enthusiasts, there is an opportunity to enjoy this entertaining sport in a facility second to none in the area. The second curling season is just getting underway and new members are especially welcome at this time. There's even a selection of nights and groups, with Men's night being Thursday, Ladies on Tuesday, and Mixed getting together on Monday. Anyone wanting further information can contact Fred at 448-2072, or George at 448-2451. It's good ice, great socializing, and terrific exercise. Where else can you have so much fun sweeping a broom?

And if your winter enjoyment is being hampered by various foot discomforts or aggravating toenail problems, we even have a local foot clinic. It's held every third Thursday of the month at the L.W.C.C., beginning at 9 a.m. This is to provide foot care for those who are unable to attend to their feet because of age or being unable to reach their feet. The next clinic will be held January 21, and Vickie Agnew is the nurse on hand.

A chance to participate either very actively, or in an equally important quieter way is coming up this weekend. Once again the O.F.C.P. is presenting its Weekend With The Stars Telethon for Cerebral Palsy. Or perhaps it should be called our telethon. Through volunteers manning telephones, through pledges made by you, the telethon is made a success. True, it's the Ontario Federation for the Cerebral Palsied that gets the ball rolling. They're a non-profit voluntary organization that work with, and on behalf of disabled persons across Ontario.

All donations in this area go to Kawartha Participation Projects, and their aim is homes and support services for the disabled. Once again Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Co. is providing a phone centre for pledges. Roberta Walsh tells us she still needs volunteers for those phones, so call her at 448-2185. An hour or two of your time can make a difference. It begins at 7 p.m., Saturday, January 16, and runs right through to 6 p.m. Sunday, January 17. Those local numbers for pledges are 448-2520 and 448-2521.

Coboconk News

from page 10 ing yard, dog kennel, or a donkey farm may spring up. I'm not against these establishments but we should all be aware where one can operate a business, build a cottage or a home or whatever.

I hope you are managing to keep warm these cold mornings - 12 below zero this Saturday morning.

THANK YOU

The family of the late Ron Sawyer wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many dear friends and relatives for all their help and thoughtfulness that helped us through our time of sorrow. A special thanks to Mr. Gordon Monk and Reverend Smith. Also a special thanks goes to Dr. Good. The Sawyer family 27-P-13

The family of the late Orville Austin would like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt thanks to all those who sent cards, phone calls and visits, while my husband was a patient in Peterborough Civic Hospital. Many thanks for many expressions of sympathy, and many other acts of kindness shown me, in the loss of a loving husband. Special thanks to Dr. Moore, Dr. Good and nursing staff on third floor, ambulance drivers Gerald and Wendell Woods, Reverend Trevor Denny for the comforting service, and Gordon Monk for his kindness and understanding. Leak Austin and family 27-P-13

I would like to say a sincere thank you to all my friends and relatives for the beautiful cards, flowers, visits, and acts of kindness while I was in Haliburton hospital. Also thank you to Dr. Pierce, nurses and staff at the hospital. Gladys Sedgwick 27-P-13

BIRTHS

BREWSTER, RICK AND DEBBIE are proud to announce the safe arrival of their daughter, ANGELA DAWN, Born December 20, 1981, Peterborough. Weighing 7 lbs., 13 oz. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Brewster, St. John, New Brunswick, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fischer of Colorado Springs, Colorado. Our sincere thanks to Dr. Pierce, and Dr. Bos. Also special thanks to the congregation and friends of Allsaw Pentecostal Church for their love, prayers and gifts. 28-B-13

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neville of Haliburton are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Dawn Corrine to Mr. Larry Hutchings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hutchings of Haliburton. Wedding to be announced later. 29-P-13

IN MEMORIAM

LEWIS, NELSON - In loving memory of a dear grandfather and great grandfather, Nelson, who passed away January 14, 1981.

What we would give to hold your hand
Your happy face to see,
To hear your voice and see your smile
That meant so much to us.
What you suffered you told but few
You didn't deserve what you went through,
Tired and weary you made no fuss
But tried so hard to stay with us.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Chuck, Joan, Dwain, Lisa and Darren Lindsay; Ray, Lorraine, ReNee and Kenton Casey; Bill, Linda, Marsha and Dwight Bowers; Rodney, Geraldine, Jason and Julie Bowen. 32-P-13

LEWIS, NELSON - In loving memory of a dear dad and granddad who passed away January 14, 1981.

In tears we saw you sinking
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping
So peacefully, free from pain
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.

Sadly missed by daughter, Jean and Lloyd, Bill and Lyle MacDuff. 32-B-13

Gooderham News

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dovell, accompanied by Dale and Sandra Dovell, drove to Belleville to visit Vivian's brother, Stan Maxwell, who is quite seriously ill in hospital there. Since the visit he has undergone surgery. We hope his condition may improve soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Alsop enjoyed the Christmas holiday at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hunter, at Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mackey returned to their home in St. Catharines after spending the holiday season at the home of Mrs. Mae Pickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hunter spent the Christmas holiday with their son, Lorne, and his family in Oshawa.

Glamorgan Sr. Citizen's Club held their first meeting of the new year on Wednesday, January 6 with an attendance of 20. Following lunch at 12:30, the president, Ivan Hunter, conducted a business period, after which games were enjoyed. A letter was read from New Horizons informing the group that their supplementary budget for $13,000 had been approved. A cheque for the first instalment of $4,000 was enclosed. This funding from New Horizons has made it possible to acquire kitchen appliances, consisting of an electric range, refrigerator and dishwasher which are now installed.

We were happy to see Maurice Bradley improved enough to take the service in the United Church last Sunday. We hope this improvement continues until good health is completely restored. Bible study was held last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Grace Billings with an attendance of 12.

A very happy new year's day was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cary with most of their family present. This included: Barbara and Doug Higgins of Mississauga; Bonnie and Dave Woolley with Dave's brother, Jim, of Oshawa; Madeline and Bob Woods of Kingston with their family, Kathy and husband, Julie and friend, and Michael as well as Bob's mother from Ireland, Carol and Bob Young and family. Shirley and Ron Winder, with Chad; Joey, with his wife and son and Maxine and daughter, Angela.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cary of Magnetawan spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cary.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cary are moving to Dwight. Joey Cary and his wife are moving into the house vacated by them since Joey is now employed at the I.G.A. in Wilberforce.

Don't forget the "foot clinic" at the community centre on Thursday, January 21 at 1:30 p.m. Appointments may be made by calling 447-2803.

Kinmount residents can expect Bell Canada rate increase in 1982

Basic monthly rates will go up in the Kinmount (488) exchange beginning January 25, 1982, Ann Jenkins, Bell Canada manager for this area said.

Jenkins said phone growth in the Kinmount local calling area has pushed the phone number total above the highest total allowed for present rates.

Basic rates are tied directly to local calling area phone number totals. A local calling area includes all exchanges the customer can reach via a local call.

Private line residence service will increase by 60 cents a month to a monthly total of $7.60. An individual business line will go up from $16.00 to $18.30 a month. All customers have been notified by an insert with their current bill.

Euchre results at the Galway Hall Wednesday evening, January 6: men's high: Ken Young, men's low: John Hickey, ladies' high: Alma Harper, ladies' low: Clara Wilkinson, lone hands: Collin Longhurst.

Visitors for a couple of days at the home of Marg and Jim Hockley of the 5 to 51 store in town, were granddaughters, Jennifer and Amy Taylor of Orillia.

We were saddened recently, to hear of the death of the father of Len Taylor of Crystal Lake.

Kinmount Korner

Nancy and Dough Hutton and daughters, Leslie and Melissa of Ajax were guests for four days at the home of Ida and Ken Young at Crystal Lake.

How about an Orange Rind Cake: 1 cup raisins, 1/2 cup nuts, rind of 2 oranges, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 2 eggs, 1 cup buttermilk, 1 tsp. baking soda, 2 1/2 cups flour, confectioners sugar. Put raisins, nuts and rind through a grinder. Set aside. Cream butter with sugar; stir in eggs and buttermilk, mixing well. Add soda, flour and ground mixture. Pour batter into a greased and floured bundt pan. Bake in a 350 degree F oven 45-60 minutes. Serves 10-12. Dust with confectioners sugar.

Alex and Norm Graham of Norland are enjoying their ice fishing jaunts whenever possible and recently Norm took in a beautiful 9 lb., 6 oz. lake trout and Alex, this past week caught a very nice brook trout weighing in at about 1 1/2 to 2 lbs. each.

Congratulations to Paul and Marlene Dolan of Lakefield, on the birth of their almost 10 lb. son last week. The happy grandparents live in Norland.

I was the recipient of a very nice paperweight at Xmas time, an almost diamond shaped piece of stone with white lettered words of "Happiness is You". Somehow I'd feel better if it weren't black granite.

Joan Hyams is getting better day by day which is good to hear.

Betty and John Lonsdale visited with Ruby Schell last Thursday.

Well folks 'til next week.

METRIC SHOPPING IS HERE!

Canadian Government regulations require that food weighed in stores be sold in metric units only. The retail cost of product has not changed due to metric conversion, so the cost per serving remains the same. Some fruits and vegetables are still sold by unit, by quantity or by bunch but the price of items weighed in the store is now based on the price per kilogram. One kilogram equals approximately 2.2 pounds.
